Gentlemen;

Under seperate cover I am sending one Egyptian coin which Mr Sheldon of our ~~State~~ State Historical Society has examined. He has suggested that I send it to you for inspection. Would you kindly send to me this information and its possible value. The coin was gotten in Egypt by a traveler from our city about 30 years ago.

Thanking you I am

Respectfully

Ivan Fleming.

Dear Sir:

Your coin which was struck in Egypt during the Roman period is worth no more than five cents. It was struck during the reign of Claudius Gothicus about 270 A. D. These are found in such large numbers that they bring only a few cents each and as your piece is in poor condition it has virtually no value. As you sent it registered without return postage you will have to send us sufficient postage so we may return it to you at least by parcel post insured.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

We have received your package containing 21 coins you wish us to classify for you. We will have to make a charge of $3.00 for doing this work as it will take a good deal of looking up. We will hold the coins here until we hear from you.

Very truly yours,
